Men of Honolulu met Fred B. Smith, the businessman-evangelist, at the Bijou theater last night and, after listening to a forceful, clean-cut, man-toman talk, 100 signified their intention of leading better lives, and of becoming "strong men," physically, morally, educationally and religiously.

"The Strong Man" was Mr. Smith's topic. William A. Bowen presided and Minister David Cary Peters offered prayer. A quartet led by George Andrus sang. Richard H. Trent was on the platform.

Mr. Smith last night referred but briefly to the war. He said:

"My soul boils and boils with right. eous indignation at the deviltry let loose on earth 'y a clique led by the kaiser. I have had three letters since I have been here asking if I wasn't rather unkind in my attitude toward the kaiser. I am sorry they have taken that view. But I will leave that out tonight. Next Sunday I will say what is in my heart and what I believe is in yours."

The speaker told of the various references made in the Bible to a "strong man." "When you hear the expression 'Be strong,' " said Mr. Smith, "remember that it is a Biblical metaphor. It begins there. Throughout the Bible is a message to young men-they are commanded and exhorted to

The speaker asked if the test of a strong man was his physical fitness, his ability to make money or the amount of education he had acquired. He took each one up separately and pointed out in the end that the true test lies in the measure in which a man is related to God.

"Be true to God!" said Mr. Smith, The first time in all the world that you prove you are a man clear to the roots will be on the day when you say 'I'm going to serve God.' That's when you prove you are a man."

He told of the blasphemer-the man who stands on the street corner and curses the name of God and ridicules the ministers. "Let me tell you," declared the speaker, "the grandest men who walk Gon's earth are those who preach the teachings of Jesus

"Are you going to cast your lives with the type of men who pray three times a day-Wilson, Roosevelt, Bryan or Hughes-these great men who believe in Christ, or with the narrowchested little tinhorn sports and gam-

Mr. Smith declared that there more swearing to the square inch in Honolulu than in any other place he has visited. "You have a gang of foulmouthed blasphemers in this town. he added

The speaker wanted to know the standard of drinking whisky. "One of the greatest frolics we will have is the day on which we drive out this old devil, root and branch," he declared, and the applause was deafen-

"You are among the best men we have, and yet we cannot let you have a drop," he continued, speaking to the College enlisted men in the audience. "Yet we tell a lot of these other worn-out hulks that they can have it."

About 1000 persons attended the meeting last night, and the reception
